Month by Means of an Exchange Advertisement.

The Evening World; Business came to a complete halt after New-Year', and the grim visage of debt and wantstared my family in the face. It then occurred to me that THE EVENING WORLD'S Swoppers' Column might save me from my plight and help me to tide over the dull times.

On the 21st of January I inserted a 50-cent "a4, stating that I would do replating and repairing of household silverware, jewsiry, clocks, de., in ochange for groceries, shoes and like necessaries.
The result was electrical and gratifying beyond expectation. I promptly received letters from nearly all classes of tradespecties, who were "tight" in money matters and glad of the opportunity to make an exchange.

Through my 50 cent "ad" I have been an exchange.

Through my 50-cent "ad" I have been enabled for nearly a month to provide food, clething and shelter for my beloved household, and, instead of now being in deb, we are (thanks to the enterprising Evening World) comparatively prosperous and contented.

Deputy Sheriff McGonigal.

the Case of Ludlow Street Jail Prisoners.

Indictments were filed by the Grand Jury to-day against Deputy Sheriff David McGonigal, who has charge of the Order of Arrest Department in the Sheriff's office, and Warden James P. Keating, of Ludlow Street Jail.

The indictments against both officers are based upon charges of bribery made arrange a schedule and make ready for by a former prisoner in Ludlow Street Jail, who says they took money from him for illegal priviloges. There are five separate counts in the indictment against McGonigal, each charging bribery. The indictment is drawn tenses.

The indictment charges him with demanding and receiving the sum of $40 from Hersh, in consideration of which he violated his duty and allowed his prisoner

They Acquitted Him. "Gentlemen of the jury," said the Arizona Judge. "If you find from the testimony that the prisoner (who, I understand, intends to set up a free lunch at the conclusion of this trial really stole the barrel of ten-year-old whiskey (which it appears in evidence he expected to open at his saloun this afternoon), you will bring in a verdict of guilty. Otherwise, gentlemen, you'll acquit him.

In precisely two minutes and eleven seconds the jury were getting acquainted with the contents of that barrel.

annual election next Sunday at its club-rooms. There will be other important business to be transacted, and the officers of the Club particularly request a full at-tend-nee of the members.

There will be an interesting boxing contest on March 17 at the rooms of the Eagle Athletic Club. Two prominent members of the Club. between whom there has been considerable rivairy, will settle the question of supremacy in a sixround glove contest for a handsome trophy offered by the Club. The Bridge Athletic Club won the ban-ner offered to the Club winning the most points in the recent boxing tournament of the New York Athletic Club.

The Brooklyn Bicycle Club will elect its officers for the ensuing year early in April. There is considerable electioneer-ing going on in behalf of the various caudidates, although the latter have not as yet been formally nominated.

Charlie Mitchell, the English prize fighter, who recently distinguished himself by banging an inoffensive citizen on the head with a poker, is giving boxing exhibitions through Great Britain, having old Jem Mace as his starring pariner. He recently defeated Mace in a four-round glove contest for the gate receipts. Mace, by the way, is aixty years old.

NUPTIAL MULTIPLE OF THREE. Ashantee's King Arbitrarily Limited to 3,833 Wives.

Polygamy is practised to an extravegant legree, says a West African letter to the Baltimore American. The more wives a man has the higher his social importance. The number which a man in private life may have is limited by his ability to purchase and support them, but the number of wives which the King may have is limited by law-limited to the modest num-ber of 3,338, and it is said that he usually ber of 3,333, and it is said that he usually does not far exceed this limit.

At any rate, he must have more wives than any of his subjects, or his respectability will suffer. I was told by the American consular agent at Elmina that the present king actually has the 3,333 wives, and that he has 600 children.
